Council to weigh curfew expansion

- Proposed restrictions would apply to entire city and become permanent
- Nutter's office claim the crackdown is 'changing behavior' among youth

▶ Olugbala (right) said an expanded curfew could lead to an uprising by city youths.

District changes a done deal

CITY HALL. City Council voted Thursday to adopt a simpler redistricting map negotiated by Councilmen Jim Kenney and Frank DiCicco.

Councilmen Brian O'Neill and Jack Kelly were the only members to vote nay. The agreement meant a mere one-day delay in Council members' paychecks, as their charter dictates they could not be paid until the map was finished.

The plan would condense the 7th District. It now goes to Mayor Michael Nutter's desk for his signature.

METRO/AW

Councilwoman Blondell Reynolds Brown introduced a bill on behalf of Mayor Michael Nutter's administration Thursday that would significantly tighten curfew laws.

"What we're doing is changing behavior," said Nutter spokesman Mark McDonald. "I think the hope is that parents are getting the message and taking more direct control of their children."

The bill divides minors into three age groups, reduces times and makes them uniform across the entire week and the entire city. The curfew will be extended an extra hour in the summer and is intended to be permanent.

"Since there's never enough money for after-school programs for all students, we need to put other controls on them," Reynolds Brown said.

The bill holds parents more accountable, increasing the violation fine and making those whose children commit criminal acts liable to the victim.

McDonald said that it could be passed in as few as two weeks, depending on how quickly Council schedules hearings. "Our wish is that they move quickly on this," he said.

In the interim, the targeted enforcement curfew introduced by Nutter this summer will continue.

Though Councilwoman Brown said that she did not expect the bill to face much opposition, independent mayoral candidate Diop Olugbala compared the legislation to Mubarak's rule in Egypt and likened the possible response to London's youth riots.

"You can only push people so far before they start to push back," said Olugbala, who noted that a protest is planned for Nov. 5. "This repression is breeding resistance and will breed increasing resistance, particularly among the youth being targeted."

Law of the land

The proposed legislation includes the following parameters:

- Ages 13 and under: 8 p.m.; 14-15: 9 p.m.; 16 and older: 10 p.m.
- Discretion will be exercised on the part of the officers when kids are traveling home from work or other legitimate business
- The iPledge campaign and extended community center hours will continue, with Nutter announcing additional holistic measures in the next few weeks.
- $75 The fine for violating curfew will increase from $25 to $75
- Police enforcing the new laws would mostly consist of officers on their regular beat.

Report: Politics in school choice

Former SRC head did not vote, but set up backroom meetings State lawmaker defends his "passion"

Former School Reform Commission Chairman Robert Archie played the role of facilitator in state Rep. Dwight Evans' efforts to steer the charter operator selection for Martin Luther King High School, according to a report released Thursday by the city's chief integrity officer.

The fact-finding report was commissioned by Mayor Michael Nutter based on published reports that backroom politics caused Mosaica Turnaround Partners to back out of operating the school on March 17, the day after it was unanimously selected by the SRC. It concludes that

▶ Archie

Evans, who represents part of Northwest Philadelphia near MLK, strongly pressured Philadelphia School District officials to select Foundations Inc. as the operator, with help from Archie.

Archie, who resigned this week, arranged private meetings between Evans and former Superintendent Arlene Ackerman and the SRC; but both rebuffed Evans' requests, the report says.

Evans declined an interview for the report, but issued a statement Thursday saying, "In public and in private meetings, I made clear my intent to make Martin Luther King Jr. High School the best in the nation."

Archie did not return calls for comment.

TOM FOREMAN
POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT FOR CNN

THE RISE OF THE ROBOTS

I met the future a few days ago. He was in a lab at Virginia Tech, 18 inches tall, had a nice smile, and he beat me at soccer. He also never complains; works 24 hours a day; demands no retirement, health benefits or promotions; will never unionize; and doesn't talk back. When a colleague knocked him down, he did not rush off to HR. He stood back up and returned to work.

And we wonder why, in the midst of a staggering economy, businesses keep handing our jobs over to robots.

How many jobs? That's a sticky question. People in the robot business tell you that their mechanized minions are snapping up mainly the three D's: jobs that are dull, dirty and dangerous. Like working a factory production line, bomb disposal or public relations for the Salahis.

CNN=POLITICS

Quoted

"Arguing against automation makes you ... a fuddy-duddy at best, a Luddite at worst."
FOREMAN

In the process, the robotophiles argue that newer, better jobs are being created. One survey a few years back pointed out that Japan has far more robots at work than any other country, and their unemployment rate is well under 5 percent. Take that, you greedy humans!

But other economic and tech analysts say, "Cool your diodes. That's just a Replicant talking point." They insist that one of the key reasons we are having such a hard time recovering jobs is that so many businesses, eager to save money in these tough times, are automating every task they can. Mail handling, breadmaking, phone answering, traffic control, feeding the dog, spaying the cat: "Hey, we've got an app for that!"

So where is Washington in all this? President Obama is strongly pro-robot. Earlier this year he went to Carnegie Mellon to talk up the idea that advanced robots, even if they take jobs in the short term, can make us more globally competitive and create much more work for humans in the long run. It's a hard case for even his foes in Congress to counter. Arguing against automation makes you look like a fuddy-duddy at best, a Luddite at worst.

But I don't know. As I watched my little soccer playing pal at that university lab, I kept thinking, is there anything these things can't do? And what will be left for us? Because it looks like he's not only ready to take over my Monday through Friday chores, but maybe my weekends, too.

More social problems for heavier children

Study shows weight can play a role in kids' relationships with peers
Social, emotional problems cited Wakeup call for health providers

Children who are heavier than their peers at ages 4 and 5 are more likely to struggle in their relationships with other kids several years later, an Australian study suggests.

After following more than 3,300 children for about four years, researchers found that the heavy kids were up to 20 percent more likely at age 8 or 9 to be described by their parents as having social difficulties and by teachers as having emotional problems.

"It's interesting that we're seeing these problems at an early age," said Christina Calamaro, a professor at the University of Maryland School of Nursing, who did not participate in the research.

▶ Studies show obese kids are also more likely to be bullied.

"I think this speaks to the fact that health care providers need to take weight into consideration at an earlier age, so we can cut it off at the pass before they hit middle school," she told Reuters Health.

The researchers surveyed the parents and teachers of 3,363 Australian children participating in a large national health study. The interviews were conducted first when the kids were 4 or 5, and again four years later.

The questions involved measures of children's mental and behavioral health, such as emotional problems, hyperactivity and social skills.

Children also had their weight and height checked at each age. REUTERS

Irene's waters worse than winds

The number of people in the northeastern United States who suffered water damage from Hurricane Irene is more than double the number who suffered wind damage, an Ipsos/Reuters poll showed Thursday. There is broad agreement that Irene was much more of a flooding event than many hurricanes, where wind damage is often the major factor. REUTERS

Watch for pieces of satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, FLA. A defunct NASA satellite the size of a bus that is expected to fall to Earth Friday will likely miss North America, NASA said.

The agency's 13,000-pound Upper Atmosphere Research Satellite, or UARS, has been slowly tumbling from orbit since its mission ended in 2005. It is expected to re-enter Earth's atmosphere and break apart Friday.

Most of the debris will incinerate as it plows through the air, but about 26 pieces, weighing a total of about 1,100 pounds, are expected to survive the fall and land somewhere on Earth. REUTERS

Holocaust, 9/11 in doubt for Iran head

Ahmadinejad caused UN walkout after using speech to criticize history Anti-Semitic, US spokesman says

GETTY IMAGES

Ahmadinejad

Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad attacked Western powers on Thursday for a catalog of misdeeds, but his address to the United Nations failed to mention Tehran's disputed nuclear program.

The U.S. delegation walked out when Ahmadinejad said "arrogant powers" threatened anyone who questioned the Holocaust and the Sept. 11 attacks on the United States with sanctions and military action. Other Western delegations soon made their exit.

Ahmadinejad made only a passing reference to the Palestinian issue which has overshadowed this year's U.N. General Assembly and did not comment on the Palestinian plan to ask the U.N. Security Council to recognize their nascent state.

He accused the United States of using the "mysterious" 9/11 attacks as a pretext to launch wars on Iraq and Afghanistan. The United States and its allies "view Zionism as a sacred notion and ideology," the Iranian leader said.

Mark Kornblau, spokesman for the U.S. mission at the United Nations, condemned Ahmadinejad's remarks.

"Mr. Ahmadinejad had a chance to address his own people's aspirations for freedom and dignity, but instead he again turned to abhorrent anti-Semitic slurs and despicable conspiracy theories," Kornblau said in a statement. REUTERS

FALL TV GUIDE

TOP 5 MUST-SEE NEW SERIES

'2 Broke Girls'

▶ Premise: Working gal (Kat Dennings) meets fallen socialite (Beth Behrs) in hipsterville, Brooklyn. Two girls from completely different economic and social worlds join forces to open a cupcake shop — one day, if they can save enough money from their current waitressing gig.

▶ Why we're watching: This totally enjoyable odd couple trades more hilariously crude one-liners than we would have ever expected on CBS. As hard-scrabble Max, Dennings in particular is fiercely funny — especially when she's chewing out the fauxhemian types who are becoming her beloved greasy spoon's new clientele.
(Mondays at 8:30 p.m. on CBS)

'New Girl'

▶ Premise: A socially awkward girl (Zooey Deschanel) who just got dumped moves in with three guys for a fresh start.

▶ Why we're watching: As Jess, Deschanel embodies the everywoman — well, minus those adorable saucer eyes, killer bangs and gorgeous voice, maybe. She admits she's "not good at hiding her crazy" — she makes up songs on the spot and sings them out loud, often — and sees the good in most everything. We can't help but root for her and this quirky-smart sitcom.
(Tuesdays at 9 p.m. on Fox)

'Person of Interest'

▶ Premise: A mysterious billionaire (Michael Emerson) has built a machine that, using surveillance technology, can predict crimes before they happen. He enlists an ex-CIA agent (Jim Caviezel) to help him enact vigilante justice.

▶ Why we're watching: When executive producer J.J. Abrams does mystery and paranoia, we pay attention. Not that we always know what's going on, mind you, but this commentary on Big Brother's watchful eye has us intrigued. Plus, we want to find out if Caviezel can take down a man by simply throwing him one of those intense death stares.
(Thursdays at 9 p.m. on CBS)

'Pan Am'

▶ Premise: The 1960s take flight through the eyes of the crew on a new Pan Am jet.

▶ Why we're watching: Style gets top billing here — from the luxurious flight cabin to the gorgeous retro costumes — but there's substance to back it up, too, as the series delves into the cultural and political revolutions of the '60s. Why wouldn't you want to climb aboard?
(Premieres Sunday at 10 p.m. on ABC.)

'Suburgatory'

▶ Premise: A single dad (Jeremy Sisto) moves his teen daughter (Jane Levy) out of New York City for a shot at a "better life" in the 'burbs.

▶ Why we're watching: There's a sweet "Gilmore Girls" vibe to the single parent-daughter relationship in "Suburgatory" — in this case, dad is the young, hip parent making sacrifices to do what's best for his kid. We forgot how charming Sisto can be in a comedy; actress Levy, full of snark and heart, is our favorite newcomer of the fall.
(Premieres Sept. 28 at 8:30 p.m. on ABC.)

Scene-stealer: Lana Parrilla, 'Once Upon a Time'

In present-day Storybrooke, Maine, the fairy tale characters we know and love — Snow White, Prince Charming and even Jiminy Cricket — have been trapped without their happy endings, perpetually stuck in time via a curse. Lana Parrilla gets to play the baddie who put them there.

"I'm having a blast," says the actress, who plays the Evil Queen with deliciously cruel flair.

But the residents of Storybrooke — including, seemingly, the queen — are unaware of their true identities. In this real-world parallel to the lost fairy-tale realm, Parrilla plays the mayor, Regina, who isn't much kinder than her alter ego.

"I've worked pretty hard at showing the contrast between the two characters," Parrilla says. "The queen is very powerful and puts everything out there, where Regina, she masks everything. I think she's a much more complex character, but I love them both. It's a lot of fun." AMBER RAY

"Revenge"

'Revenge'

As the ladies of Wisteria Lane prepare to move on when "Desperate Housewives" signs off this season, you're going to need a new bitchy, backstabbing drama to fill the void. Set in the Hamptons and citing "The Count of Monte Cristo" as inspiration, "Revenge" stars Emily VanCamp as a mysterious woman who moves to the tony community, plotting vengeance on those who destroyed her family 17 years ago.
(Wednesdays at 10 p.m. on ABC)

'Last Man Standing' / 'Man Up!'

If you were to believe ABC execs, men are having major identity crises. We can forgive "Last Man Standing" — if only because we've seen this schtick from Tim Allen before ("Home Improvement"). A"Man Up!" has guys feeling emasculated because their war experience is exclusive to video games, so there's no way we can muster as much enthusiasm.

‘Pan Am’ takes viewers back to a time of luxury air travel ◐ Reliving the 1960s in the skies

FALL TV GUIDE

Once upon a time, commercial air travel was glamorous, a luxury devoid of pat downs and tipsy with the promise of adventure — not to mention martinis. Harkening back to a day when the friendly skies were just that is the new ABC drama, “Pan Am.”

“It’s escapism at its best, at a time when, for a moment, the world kind of opened and embraced everywhere we were going,” says star Mike Vogel, who plays a bright-eyed pilot flying his way up the company ladder.

The series takes full advantage of his metaphor — “Pan Am,” which takes place in 1963, not only taps into the nostalgia of the industry with gorgeous costuming and set design and stories uninhibited by TSA regulations, but it also delves into the burgeoning cultural revolution of the era.

“For the stewardesses, there was this sense of excitement and freedom,” says star Christina Ricci, whose bohemian character takes the gig as an opportunity to explore the world. “The job allowed these women to have a freedom that they weren't really given in a regular sort of role in life at that time,” she explains. “Yes, they did have to pass through girdle checks and grooming checks, but by going through those things they were then allowed to travel freely and ... be in charge of their own lives.”

Thank you for choosing Pan Am: Though the airline that is synonymous with the jet age is defunct, a New England company now owns the rights to the Pan Am name and logo. Producers were able to negotiate a deal for their use on the series.

The Pan Am stewardess

The opportunities afforded a Pan Am stewardess were rare for the 1960s, but not without old-fashioned contradictions.

"It was a coveted position at the time for young women," says series creator Jack Orman. "They needed to be college educated. They needed to speak several languages. They were really pioneers in a lot of ways. So the idea that they have to be subjected to girdle checks and weigh-ins, I think adds a certain realism — but also an interesting, dramatic twist to the show."

Producing what she knows

"Pan Am" producer Nancy Hult Ganis knew there were great stories to be mined out of a series centered on the heyday of the airline. She was so sure because she worked as a Pan Am stewardess in the late-1960s through the mid-'70s. "The experience opened the world to us and helped us understand and appreciate those different cultures and customs," she says. "[There were] a lot of funny fish-out-of-water moments as we learned to navigate through different worlds."

Jacob loses out again

'Abduction'
Director: John Singleton
Cast: Taylor Lautner, Lily Collins
Rating: PG-13
Grade: ●●○○○

"Abduction" is supposed to offer a breakout role for "Twilight" third wheel, Taylor Lautner. It was his chance to prove he's not only an actor who can headline a film, but also an action star. Unfortunately, he picked a project that is poorly written, lazily executed and often unintentionally funny.

Lautner is a high school student whose work on a class project about missing persons leads him to a website featuring a photo of a familiar face: his own.

BRUCE TALAMON

▶ Taylor Lautner and Lily Collins are on the run!

Soon, a chain of events unfolds that leaves him and the girl next door (Lily Collins) on the run.

In theory, "Abduction" should be a terse thriller — an adolescent "Bourne Identity" — but instead, it's a teen angst film, which honestly may be what they were going for. But any concerns about the quality of the movie certainly won't stop rabid "Twilight" fans from showing up. ● JOEL AMOS

A killer bad flick

Despite some material from a very original story, lame acting and the Hollywood-ification of this plot make even Robert De Niro look bad

'Killer Elite'
Director: Gary McKendry
Cast: Jason Statham, Clive Owen, Robert De Niro
Rating: R
Grade: ●●○○○

It should be exciting, really, given the source material: British ex-military officer Ranulph Fiennes' supposedly true account of the SAS's dirty dealings in the Middle East in the 1980s. Stay with us now: The film follows a mercenary (Jason Statham) whose mentor (Robert De Niro) gets him tied up with an Omani oil magnate who wants three retired British soldiers killed because their covert meddling caused the deaths of his sons. But wait, there's more. Another retired British soldier (Clive Owen) is tasked by a shadowy secret society to keep the targets alive. It's ... yeah.

Some late-in-the-game fight choreography — including Statham working his way out of a room while tied to a chair — is fun, but not enough to save the film. "Killer Elite" is weighed down by its own self-seriousness. The movie has its share of unintentional laughs, though, like Owen's mustache or Statham's pronunciation of the word "Allah." But what's hard to laugh at is De Niro's performance. The only way he could put less effort into it would be by not showing up. It's just sad.

▶ Surprise, surprise. Jason Statham in an action sequence. Yawn.

USED CARS as low as $999

FRED BEANS REPEATS HISTORIC USED CAR SALE

Limerick, PA – Fred Beans, CEO and Founder of the Fred Beans Family of Dealerships located in Limerick PA, has announced a ONE DAY SALE on Saturday, September 24th at 9:30 AM, where pre-owned vehicles will be sold for as low as $999. This sale is being held due to overwhelming public demand.

Cars will be clearly marked, so come early for the best selection. This is a ONE DAY ONLY sale designed to get the local community driving again.

Fred Beans' pre-owned inventory levels need to be reduced to make room for shipments of new models arriving daily. As a result, all 3 Fred Beans Limerick locations are selling these overstocked pre-owned vehicles to the public at drastic discounts in an attempt to clear excess inventory.

In addition to this huge variety of pre-owned vehicles, the Fred Beans Family of Dealerships in Limerick features new Chevrolet, Nissan and Kia vehicles. Fred Beans believes reviving the economy starts at home, and changing things locally will lead to changing things nationally.

In addition to the Fred Beans Family of Dealerships' extra inventory, additional vehicles have been acquired at incredible prices from various banks, repossession companies, auto auctions, credit unions, lease companies, and rental companies for this sale.

The sale will make pre-owned vehicles available for as low as $999, prices not normally offered to the general public. According to Fred Beans, "We want to give our customers a reason to believe in the local economy again. Someone has to look out for their best interests."

Customers are encouraged to arrive as early as 9:00AM to inspect the entire inventory and find the car that is right for them. Every vehicle will be cleaned, detailed, and fully prepared for instant delivery.

On the evening of September 23rd after close of business, Mr. Beans and his team will mark the special sale price on each and every vehicle.

Because Fred Beans' customers are feeling the credit crunch right now, the Fred Beans Automotive Group has given the dealerships' financing managers the resources necessary to get most customers' credit approved on the spot.

The Fred Beans Family of Dealerships has $10,000,000 in lending power, the result of over 50 years of strong relationships with the area's leading lenders. This means that customers with "less than perfect" credit history can have their credit approved and drive a quality pre-owned car, truck, or SUV home by lunchtime on Saturday.

Even if a customer's credit report shows a bankruptcy, divorce, tax lien, slow payment history, missed payment, or repossession, or if a customer is a first time buyer, Fred Beans may get them approved.

This special ONE DAY ONLY sale will be held at all 3 Fred Beans Limerick locations this Saturday, September 24th, at 9:30AM. Pre-owned vehicles will be sold for as low as $999. Customers are encouraged to arrive as early as 9:00AM for the start of inspection. Incredible sale prices, starting as low as $999, will be posted no later than 9:30AM. All vehicles will be sold on a first come, first serve basis. The Fred Beans Family of Dealerships is expecting a high volume of customers for this sale, so be sure to reserve your spot early.

Customers wishing to trade in a vehicle are asked to bring their title or payment book for immediate delivery. Fred Beans will even pay off your trade-in in full, no matter how much you still owe on it.

Most of these surplus pre-owned vehicles will get sent directly to auto auctions for liquidation. So, if anyone has been thinking about purchasing a good, clean, dependable pre-owned car, truck, van or sport utility vehicle, do not miss this special ONE DAY ONLY sale.

For more information about this sale and directions to our locations please visit us online at

'Moneyball' throws a curve by entertaining

'Moneyball'
Director: Bennett Miller
Cast: Brad Pitt, Jonah Hill
Rating: PG-13
Grade: ●●●●○

The synopsis sounds very dry, but so did "The Social Network" before you actually sat down and watched it. "Moneyball" took what could be the dry subject of baseball stats and spices it up with complex characters and a compelling story while leaving sports movie cliches behind.

The movie moves at about half the speed of "The Social Network" but that's OK — we're not dealing with the fast-moving world of cyberspace here but the more relaxed pace of America's favorite pastime. It's a slow build, but the seventh inning stretch is exciting.

SONY PICTURES

▶ Brad Pitt is Billy Beane in "Moneyball."

But this isn't a baseball movie and despite the game footage, it's not a sports movie either. Brad Pitt and Jonah Hill, in a rare serious role, dominate the movie with their behind the scenes stories. Like "The Social Network" "Moneyball" places the onus on the characters and not the technology that drives the story. We've seen baseball movies before, but never from this angle.

RICHARD CROUSE
METRO WORLD NEWS IN CANADA

Synopsis

Based on Michael Lewis' book, "Moneyball" is about Billy Beane (Pitt), real-life general manager of the Oakland A's.

Faced with having to piece together a pro team with a budget a fourth the size as the New York Yankees, he breaks with years of baseball tradition—using scouts, instinct and guts—to find a scientific method to build a team on the cheap instead. With a Yale-trained economist (Jonah Hill) he creates sabermetrics, a mind-boggling combination of facts, figures and computer algorithms to recruit his team.

Squeaky clean fun

'Dolphin Tale'
Director: Charles Martin Smith
Cast: Morgan Freeman, Harry Connick Jr., Ashley Judd
Rating: PG
Grade: ●●●●○

A charming story about a young marine animal that was saved with the use of a prosthetic after losing its tail in a tragic accident, "Dolphin Tale" is as wholesome as a family movie comes. But even with the weight of stars like Morgan Freeman, director Charles Martin Smith smartly allows the movie's subject and star to upstage the human actors and give the story heft with her inspiring true story. ● STEVE GOW

'Hey, I'm Jonah. I'm in this movie. I'd like to do more of this and I hope you accept me.'

MELINDA SUE GORDON

▶ Jonah Hill was in heavier times on the set of "Moneyball."

▶ Hill talks about his dramatic turn in 'Moneyball' — and his dramatic weight loss ▶ He regrets that the second story is not that interesting

Jonah Hill is understandably a little hoarse when we meet up with him at the Four Seasons Hotel in Boston. The night before, he had been partying with the staff of the Harvard Lampoon. "Oh my gosh, one of the best nights of my entire life," he says. "It was very inspirational, because a lot of the great comedy writers of our time and before passed through there and were a part of that organization."

These days, Hill is thriving. The recently slimmed-down actor is starring in his first dramatic role, playing opposite Brad Pitt in the film adaptation of Michael Lewis' 2003 book, "Moneyball."

I know you must be sick of talking about your weight, but could you give me a Cliffnote's version?

I completely understand people's interest in it. I went to a nutritionist. I wanted to be healthier. It's really as simple as that. It's not that talking about it bothers me; it's just how uninteresting my answers are. I wish I had something more interesting to say.

At what point did you know you wanted to try a drama?

I feel very similar right now at this moment in my career to how I did when "Superbad" was coming out, because "Superbad" was my introduction to people. ... I was saying "Hey, I'm Jonah. I'm in this movie. I'd like to do more of this and I hope you accept me." I got really lucky and it was really popular. ... So now I feel the same way because I'm re-introducing myself by saying "Hey, I'm Jonah and I'm in this different kind of movie that you're definitely not used to seeing me in, a different kind of performance. And I'd like to do more of this and I hope you accept me." So it's a very surreal, dreamlike experience.

Q&A

At the Video Music Awards late last month, you made a crack that "people keep saying, 'Now that you've lost weight, you're probably not funny anymore.'" Then you go and do a dramatic film!

I just like all kinds of movies. To me it's about making good movies. I'm lucky enough to spend my life doing this, and I'd like to do it when I'm an old man. I'd like to have a few DVDs — or whatever space technology they have — to show to my grandkids and go, "This is what I spent my life doing."

Weekend recipe

Let the fall feasting begin!

Creamy mushroom soup with blue cheese toasts

We took every measure to max out the mushroom factor in this soup, then added some kick with blue cheese toasts.

▶ Toast, meet our good friend soup.

Ingredients

- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter (1/4 stick)
- 1 cup coarsely chopped yellow onion
- ¼ cup dry sherry
- 2 garlic cloves, thinly sliced
- 4 thyme sprigs, leaves removed
- 2 pounds white mushrooms, sliced (about 12 cups)
- 4 cups mushroom broth or water
- ¾ cup heavy cream
- 2 teaspoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 10 thin baguette slices
- 3 ounces blue cheese, crumbled (about ⅔ cup)

Instructions

1. Melt butter in a large saucepan over medium heat. When foaming subsides, add onion and season it with salt. Cook, stirring occasionally until it's soft and translucent, about five minutes.
2. Add sherry and cook until the alcohol smell has dissipated, about one to two minutes. Add garlic, thyme leaves and mushrooms. Cook, stirring occasionally, until mushrooms are shrunken and nearly covered in liquid, about 20 minutes. Add broth or water and cook until flavors have melded, about 30 minutes.
3. Process soup in a blender until smooth (you may have to do this in batches), then return to the pot over low heat. Add cream and bring to a simmer. Add lemon juice and season to taste with salt and freshly ground black pepper.
4. Heat the broiler, top baguette slices with 1 to 2 teaspoons blue cheese each, and place them on a baking sheet. Broil until cheese is bubbly and toast is crisp, about one to two minutes. Float two toasts in each bowl and serve.

AARON ICLER

▶ Meg Baird knows how to spend a snow day.

Changing with the 'Seasons'

Philly folk singer Meg Baird has a new solo album of original material 'I'm not hiding it anymore,' she says

In the early 20th century, Isaac Garfield Greer was one of the leading performers and researchers of American folk music. Today, many of his recordings are meticulously archived at the Smithsonian.

His great-great-granddaughter is Meg Baird, co-founder of Espers — the little Philly indie band with quite a big national following. Underneath Espers' British-infused psychedelic soundscapes, there is the unmistakable influence of I.G. Greer and the American folk tradition.

And with Espers currently on hiatus, that tradition is rising to the surface of Meg Baird's music. Her first solo album, "Dear Companion," almost entirely featured traditional folk music.

Her latest, "Seasons on Earth," was officially released this week. The new tracks are still influenced by the strictures of traditional folk melodies, but this time nearly all of them are Baird originals. "I don't know if I would say I'm more confident as a songwriter," she explains while on break from her day job at the Wagner Free Institute of Science. "Just maybe willing to be more exposed about it. I'm not hiding it anymore."

Baird moved to Philly over a decade ago after studying English literature at Rutgers University. The passionate tones of Byron, Shelley and Keats can also certainly be found in Baird's romantic lyrics.

"I don't really have an academic kind of mind or approach, I don't think," she says. "But it does get stuck in there after four years of study. It's under your skin somewhere."

If you go

On Saturday, Glenn Jones — a leading ambassador of the traditional acoustic steel guitar — will open for Baird at Johnny Brenda's, followed by Baird's punk-ish, raucous side project, Watery Love.

A van full of 'Freaks In Love'

- Screening at Philly F/M, the Alice Donut doc's name says it all
- Other festival highlights

"Freaks In Love" screens Saturday at 10 p.m. at Invincible Pictures (1600 N. Fifth St., $10). Visit www.phillyfmfest.com for more info.

After 25 years as a band, there was nothing that the members of Alice Donut could say about the experience that could surprise each other.

"We spent so much time in the van together that eventually the only thing that changed was descriptions of our bowel movements and dreams," says drummer Stephen Moses. "That's basically it."

For fans and the uninitiated, "Freaks In Love" relates the band's history through interviews and a wealth of archival concert footage dating back to their early days at legendary CBGBs. Dead Kennedys frontman Jello Biafra and the Meat Puppets' Curt Kirkwood chime in with praise, while the filmmakers try to put the Donuts' fiercely independent, eccentric path through the punk world in broader perspective.

"I don't know if our experience had anything at all to do with the history of the underground independent scene at that time," shrugs guitarist Michael Jung. "But the film gives a larger picture of the music industry while we were doing the daily grind."

"Freaks In Love" will screen on Saturday night at Invincible Pictures as part of the second Philly F/M Festival — a citywide music and film fest running through Sunday — and will be followed by an increasingly rare live performance.

They stay at it, Moses says, because: "We love what we do, we love each other, and we want to continue doing as much as we can without losing our jobs."

Here we are now: 'Smells Like Teen Spirit' turns 20

Where were you when you first heard Kurt Cobain, Dave Grohl and Krist Novoselic radically transform popular music? That's what we asked these artists

In a few months, the baby on the cover or Nirvana's "Nevermind" album will be old enough to drink. Although two decades have passed since it came out, no single album has shaken up the music industry and popular culture since. On Tuesday, Universal Music Enterprises is releasing 20th anniversary reissues, such as a special 4-CD/1-DVD edition. Here we look back with some of the people who were close to the epicenter of the alternation revolution — and those on the outskirts with curious reactions.

▶ "I had an advanced cassette of the album. I didn't think that was the big song. I remember that. I remember thinking 'Drain You' or 'On a Plain' or something were the songs that were going to be big hits. And neither of those ended up being the single. ... I probably didn't know that there was going to be a changing of the guard in that album." — Stephen Malkmus

▶ "What I remember is, the first time I saw them play it live, which was this show at Jabberjaw, which was a tiny place. They weren't a big band yet, but even for them, it was a tiny place to be playing in L.A. I just remember the reaction was insane. ... I was on the inside, so I didn't get to experience it publicly. I was trying to get people to experience it publicly." — Mark Kates, founder of Fenway

"I remember feeling really relieved that music had that energy. Music had become so stilted. Then Nirvana emerged with this wild energy that was exhilarating."
LAURIE ANDERSON

Recordings. (At the time that "Nevermind" came out, Kates was head of alternative promotion for DGC, the label that released the album. He went on to work A&R for Nirvana.)

▶ "My oldest brother and his friends would always watch MTV, and be hanging out. I remember walking in the room one day and they were all really excited about it, and I didn't really know what it was, but they turned up the TV, and everybody got quiet, and watched it. ... I didn't know quite what to think of it, actually." — Bright Eyes singer Conor Oberst

▶ "I thought the title was funny because of the deodorant. ... I think generally I felt distant from that kind of rock 'n' roll. I was not cool, and I was probably listening to mid-'90s Michael Jackson and the oldies radio station instead of Nirvana." — tUnE-yArDs singer Merril Garbus

▶ "I was at my friend's house and she shared it with me and I was just blown away." — Katie Holmes

▶ "I loved them. I think they were just a great rock band. They had all the sort of great elements that a rock band has. They had that rebellious stance and a clandestine appeal. They were great-looking and rough and messy. And great songs. The whole package was there." — Blondie singer Debbie Harry

▶ "'Nevermind,' I just put it on, and I can remember, like, where I was standing, what the room looked like, and everything. It was that memorable of an experience to hear it for the first time." — Jonah Hill

▶ "I was watching MTV in Mexico City and I thought, 'That sounded unlike anything I had heard.' Because it was incredibly free and grungy, of course, but it was really sort of emotionally shattering." — Director Guillermo del Toro

With additional reporting by Meredith Engel, Linda Laban, Luke O'Neil and Heidi Patalano

Where were you?

Mary Lou Lord:

"My friend Dave from WERS knew that I liked to run, and I had mix tapes that I'd listen to, and he said, 'I think you'd like this mix tape that I made you.' ... And he said, 'It's that band Nirvana's new record,' and I was like, 'Oh my God!' because it didn't come out for another month. So I put it in my Walkman. Remember those? [Laughs] And I just started running, and 'Smells Like Teen Spirit' was the first song, and I was knocked out!"

Where were you?

Matt Pinfield, host of MTV2's "120 Minutes":

"Everybody was so blown away by the single, when they heard it, that a bunch of people were standing in front of [famed NYC punk club] CBGBs at a show, and it was like the day that it had just come out on the radio and everybody was trying to figure out what the actual lyrics were."

It's TV premiere week! Readers write in with their thoughts on the premiere of "Two and a Half Men" (now with Ashton!), @ngulick98 and @Wolfdoom chat about "New Girl" and @MellyLove3 gives some love. And, hey, a dog in sunglasses!

▶ @aartivirani Not loving the hobo look and can't help but think he's just playing an extension of Kelso on #That70sShow

▶ @happywithmyname He was okay. It was still filled with the same lame humor & predictable plot lines.

▶ @GirlMakesGood not funny, but then again, I never thought two and a half men was funny. I don't get the show's humor.

▶ @v0xtheriot kutcher's new look makes him look like jesus

▶ @ngulick98 #newgirl moments so awkward I actually cringed.

▶ @Wolfdoom The Lord of the Rings joke was funny, but that was about it #newgirl

▶ @MellyLove3 your article on Taylor Armstrong was a nice tone, I wish I could get a free puppy too after reading that.

A little Tyra quiz for your morning commute

GETTY IMAGES

▶ Banks on Wednesday night. Smize, girlfriend!

On Wednesday night, Metro met the queen of "smize" herself, Tyra Banks, before she signed copies of her new young adult novel, "Modelland," at Barnes and Noble in New York City. The full interview with Banks can be found at www.metro.us, but we thought it would be more fun to turn a few of the snippets into a quiz. Do you speak Tyra? Read on for a "mystical, fantastical adventure"!

1 "They can expect a wild, wacky, fun, mystical, fantastical adventure."

This described:
A. The latest "Game of Thrones" episode.
B. A new ride at Sesame Place.
C. Her novel "Modelland," and the main character, a young misfit model named Tookie De La Creme.
D. What it's like to touch Robert Pattinson's hair.

2 "I can do it myself in 20 minutes. But back in the day, yes, it did take a long time."

Tyra is referring to:
A. The amount of time it took to write a chapter.
B. The time it takes to put on her fake eyelashes.
C. How long it takes to eat lunch.
D. The time it takes to crush the dreams of a "Top Model" contestant.

3 "They are apples and ... pine cones."

This is Tyra's:
A. Comparison of writing and modeling.
B. What she calls her lady parts.
C. A new diet fad.
D. Latest Tyra Banks Brand™ potpourri.

4 "The 'Thor' guy. But it might be genetic, it might be just how his eyes are shaped so that doesn't count."

Tyra is talking about:
A. Actors who could really use an eyebrow grooming.
B. Actors who are secretly blind.
C. Actors and actresses who have good "smizing" ability.
D. Eugenics.

5 "Can it be bottled? I think it can be bottled in a lesson. But not necessarily in a physical bottle."

Is Tyra referring to:
A. Her best friend, who just happens to be a genie.
B. Learning "fierceness."
C. The essence of her "Tyra-ness"
D. Urine.

QUIZ ANSWERS: 1. C 2. B 3. A 4. C 5. B

Talking points

Wilde and Reynolds?

Olivia Wilde is off the market. When asked by Britain's OK magazine if she's dating anyone, the actress gives a simple response: "Yeah." While she's not revealing the identity of her new suitor, she hints that he certainly knows how to impress her. "I like it if the guy possesses creativity and doesn't take me to a boring restaurant or a boring whatever but comes up with an interesting location. I like to be surprised, for sure," she says. Coincidentally, Wilde has been spotted spending time with Ryan Reynolds — and the pair looked anything but bored.

Pitt needs to stop talking for a bit

At this point, Brad Pitt is probably sorry he opened his mouth at all. The "Moneyball" star is still on damage control for comments he made about his marriage to ex-wife Jennifer Aniston. "I don't know what was pieced together or put together. All I know is that my point was, the best thing I'd done as a father is be sure that my kids have a good mother. That's all I was, or am, trying to say. It has no reference to the past," Pitt says in an interview with Matt Lauer for the "Today" show, referencing partner Angelina Jolie. "I think it's a shame that I can't say something nice about Angie without Jen being drug in. You know, she doesn't deserve it."

▶ Culkin

▶ Johansson

ScarJo's stroll with Kieran

Putting her nude photo scandal behind her, Scarlett Johansson is reportedly focusing on her love life. The actress was spotted taking a cozy midnight stroll in Paris with Kieran Culkin before flying back to the U.S. together the next day, according to Us Weekly. But then she's also reportedly been getting friendly with Justin Timberlake, as the pair were spotted "hardcore flirting" at a recent party in New York. "Other guys were trying to talk with Scarlett, but she was only focused on Justin," a source says, adding that the they partied until 5:30 a.m. before heading back to her midtown penthouse.

Government killed a man this week In other news, Obama scares us more than necessary

Are we all Troy Davis?

"GA. EXECUTES TROY DAVIS AMID PROTESTS", CBSNEWS, SEPT. 22. This week, America executed a man it couldn't be sure was guilty. Overzealous prosecutors, uncaring jurists and an imperfect legal system combined to sign the death warrant on Troy Davis' life. Having spent nearly two decades in prison based on suspect testimony and no physical evidence, perhaps he welcomed the end. We can never know now — we can't un-kill Mr. Davis. And if it is indeed true that an innocent man has been killed, that also means a guilty murderer walks free.

Horoscope

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. If you know you don't have all the facts at hand, don't try to call the shots. Taking a speculative risk on something or someone can lead to big trouble.
♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. When that common sense of yours is telling you to disengage yourself from something questionable, don't ignore it. Remember, your better judgment is based on past experience.
♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. If you find yourself being disenchanted with the small stuff, it generally means your expectations are a bit too grand for your own good. Focus on quality, not size.
♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. Although your judgment appears to be pretty good in most situations, don't let that fool you. It could be a completely different story when it comes to money.
♒ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. Your charm, wit and good looks are all valuable assets, but they will only carry you so far. It will take a whole lot of dedicated effort and experience to achieve success.
♓ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. If you build your castle out of sand, all your wishes will quickly be swept out to sea by the first adverse wave. Be able to distinguish between what is real and what is make-believe.
♈ Aries March 21-April 19. Keep your own counsel when it comes to your financial affairs, because although people might mean well they don't always know what's going on behind the scenes.
♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. If you want to be successful, it will be up to you to direct your own affairs. Do not leave even minor matters to chance, because the slightest occurrence can throw things off course.
♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. Someone who is overwhelmed might need your help, but do only what she or he wants and no more. You could unwittingly upset something the person already has going if you overstep your bounds.
♋ Cancer June 21-July 22. Upsetting information that you get from someone you don't know all that well shouldn't be taken too seriously without first checking things out.
♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. Certain advice you offer a friend will be sound and helpful, yet when it comes to your own affairs you might ignore the same good common sense.
♍ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. Make sure your judgment calls are all based on reality and not on wishful thinking. If you allow nonexistent factors to influence you, you'll quickly meet your downfall. BERNICE BEDE OSOL

Talkin' bout practice

RICARD LARNA/METRO

▶ Vick was a full participant at Thursday's practice and seems likely to start Sunday afternoon against the Giants.

◗ Vick returns to field, avoids media ◗ Teammates say he looks fine ◗ Coaches still won't name starter for Sunday's game ◗ QB to wear Kevlar-padded helmet

Mike Vick often refers to himself as Superman.

So, was there really ever any doubt about him returning to the field this week against the Giants, just one week after sustaining a slight concussion?

Vick was a full participant in Thursday's practice, as he threw passes to assistant coaches and jogged around with teammates.

The Eagles announced that Vick was evaluated and cleared by an independent neurosurgeon, allowing him to return to football activities. However, coach Andy Reid wouldn't say whether Vick will start Sunday's game.

Vick didn't meet with the media and headed right for the trainer's room following practice. His teammates said the quarterback looked fine.

"He made all of the right throws and he looked like himself," receiver Jeremy Maclin said. "I think he's in good shape."

"Mike Vick is Mike Vick. We're happy he's back," said running back LeSean McCoy.

Before practice, offensive coordinator Marty Mornhinweg told reporters that Vick had been in "mostly every meeting" this week and told the coaching staff that he wants to play.

"He has a great mentality, he looks great so we'll see," Mornhinweg said. "Like you said, it's not quite all in his hands, so we'll see."

MIKE GREGER
mgreger@metro.us

Head case

Vick is expected to wear a Kevlar-padded helmet, if he plays Sunday, according to an ESPN report.

Concussion proof?
Unequaled Technologies said Vick was refitting his helmet with Kevlar padding to help deal with post-concussive blows to the head, according to ESPN's Sal Paolantonio.

Part of the deal
Vick, a spokesman for Unequaled Technologies, wore a Kevlar vest that the company designed for him last year when he suffered a rib injury.

BIG RED LIGHT FOR GREENE

The best way to evaluate talent is with our own two eyes. See a guy that looks like a freak of nature? He's probably going to help your fantasy team.

That's how we find guys like Kenny Britt, Matthew Stafford and Aaron Hernandez. And that's how we can identify guys that won't help us.

If a player isn't a special talent, it will eventually catch up with him in terms of role, production or both. Sell on these mediocre talents before it's too late:

Still waiting

Shonn Greene's breakout was going to happen last year. Nope. It was surely going to be this year, right? Wrong again. Greene is averaging just 2.9 yards per carry even though teams aren't stacking the box. He doesn't play on passing downs, is a poor receiver out of the backfield and isn't showing any burst. With the Jets' offensive line already underperforming and getting ready to play without C Nick Mangold (ankle), it won't get any better.

Roll up the Blount

LeGarrette Blount is a lot like Greene. He's not that athletic, so he struggles as a receiver and in space. When the Bucs are behind, Earnest Graham is usually their primary back. Now is a perfect time to sell Blount, who scored two touchdowns in Week 2.

Pushed up Hillis

The most appealing part of Peyton Hillis's fantasy game are his monster workloads. It's also a curse. By touching the ball 25 to 30 times a game, he gets worn down. Hillis is getting just 3.4 YPC this year after sinking to 3.9 over the final eight games of last year. And now his coach is saying that he wants to get Montario Hardesty more involved.

NFL stock watch

Buy low as losing owners are getting frustrated:

1. Dez Bryant, WR, DAL — Some think he's injury prone. Maybe, but it's worth the risk as Miles Austin's hammy pull is in bad shape.
2. Ryan Mathews, RB, SD — Mike Tolbert has a case of the fumbles and Mathews' talent is proving to be special.
3. Chris Johnson, RB, TEN — He wasn't going to break out against the Ravens no matter what. The Titans' emerging passing game will help.

Philadelphia hoops pride on line

The NBA lockout won't stop some of the game's brightest stars from descending upon the Palestra on Sunday for "The Battle of I-95."

The game, a matchup between Team Philly and Team Melo, will tip off at 6 p.m. and be streamed live on SI.com. The headliners for Team Melo include LeBron James, Carmelo Anthony, Kevin Durant and Chris Paul. Team Philly includes Hakim Warrick, Tyreke Evans, Kyle Lowry, John Salmons, Lou Williams and Jason Thompson.

Former Sixer Allen Iverson will not play, as previously rumored.

"My Philadelphia All-Stars look forward to getting on the court and proving to Melo and the people of Baltimore/D.C. that the best ballers come out of Philly," Warrick said. "Melo told me he was bringing a squad that can't be beat, so I have a few all-star surprises for him when my team takes the court on Sept. 25."

Team Philly is undoubtedly the underdog against a team with arguably four of the top 10 players in the world (LeBron, Melo, KD and CP3), but with Philadelphia pride on the line a fierce, entertaining battle is expected in what will be a historic night.

"A lot of people are going to come there just because they're fans of certain players," Thompson said. "Once the game gets going, guys are going to be going at each other. That's what makes the game exciting. You never know what's going to happen."

Phillies looking for some momentum

If the Phillies are going to surpass that franchise-record 101 win total, they'll need to get four more victories by next Wednesday (Sept. 28).

Entering Thursday night's game, the club was riding a season-high, five-game losing streak and stuck on 98 wins. Skipper Charlie Manuel is walking a fine between resting players and closing out the regular season.

"We definitely need to have our team ready and I plan on our team being ready," Manuel said.

The Phillies, of course, are chasing history as they try to match or top the franchise record of 101 wins, which was set by the 1976 team and then matched in 1977. (For the record, neither of those teams won the World Series: the 1976 squad was swept in the NLCS and the '77 club lost the NLCS to L.A. in four games.)

One way that Manuel intends on doing this is by keeping his starting rotation on schedule. Cole Hamels will get the start Friday night, with Roy Halladay going Sunday and then Cliff Lee on Monday. Kyle Kendrick looks to get the spot start on Saturday.

"We haven't been playing well and we need to figure it out and turn things around," Lee said. "Who knows? Every day's a new day."

Join Macy's for the closing ceremony of the 100th Anniversary of the Wanamaker Organ!

Macy's Center City, Saturday, October 1 at 8:30pm

Come see the World's Largest Organ!

Macy's and Friends of the Wanamaker Organ invite you to celebrate the centennial of this great American musical treasure! To mark the grand finale of our commemorative special events, famed Grand Court Organist, Peter Richard Conte, will delight with "Symphony in C", conducted by Rossen Milanov of the Philadelphia Orchestra. This is sure to be a concert you'll never forget!

Ticket sales benefit the Friends of the Wanamaker Organ. To purchase, visit wanamakerorgan.com
